$1500000 FRAUD CHARGE BRINGS INDICTMENT TO BUSINESSMAN OF SANTA ANA

According to the Los Angeles Examiner, a federal indictment has been returned in Los Angeles by a grand jury against "a business man of Santa Ana." It is stated in the Examiner article that the name of the Santa Ana man and also the name of an El Paso man, also reported as indicted, are withheld, and will be withheld until the warrants are served.

The Examiner states that an indictment has been returned against J. K. Tennant. It states that the three men are accused of using the United States mails to defraud.

In March, 1911, Tennant appeared as a plaintiff in an action brought in this county. Attorney W. M. Brown of Orange had secured judgment against the National Life Insurance Co. for attorney's fees. Tennant sued to have the judgment set aside. The action was later dismissed. The insurance company was later merged into another company.

The Examiner Report

The Examiner says:

"A secret indictment was returned yesterday by the federal grand jury against J. K. Tennant, a wealthy promoter, now of Los Angeles, and two others, on charges of conspiracy to defraud by use of the United States mails.

"The indictment is the result of a six months' investigation in the course of which, it is said, operations involving alleged frauds to the amount of $1,500,000 were disclosed, giving the case an importance second only to that of the Los Angeles Investment Company among matters of inquiry by local federal officials.

"A warrant for Tennant is in the hands of deputy United States marshals, and his arrest is a matter of hours. The names of the other accused men are withheld; one is a business man of Santa Ana, and the other a resident of El Paso.

Bank and Insurance Company Involved
"Tennant was the organizer of the Western Underwriting and Mortgage Company of San Diego, the concern whose affairs have been probed by E. J. Jernegan, special accountant of the Department of Justice. Deals in the stock of this company and relations with other corporations, particularly the Union Bank and Trust Company of Phoenix and the California National Life of San Diego, were the subject of matters of the inquiry.

"The investigation before the grand jury, conducted by United States Deputy District Attorney Robert O'Connor, centered around alleged deals of Tennant in the stock of the company he organized. It is alleged that he secured large blocks of the stock by way of compensation for organization, and that this stock was afterwards sold by him as treasury stock to various investors.

"In addition to Tennant and the two men indicted, it is said that half a dozen former directors of the company are involved.

"In Phoenix the promoters are alleged to have organized a trust company into the Union Bank and Trust Company, which failed about two years ago, and was later absorbed by the Valley Bank.

Gained Control By Ruse, Is Charged

"Tennant originally had a controlling interest in the Union Bank and Trust Company, and it is claimed he induced the directors of the Western Underwriting and Mortgage Company to exchange the company's entire assets, amounting to about $83,000, for stock in the Phoenix bank.

"This stock was preferred stock, and did not carry voting privileges. In consequence, Tennant is said to have gained absolute control through this deal of both corporations. Investors in both companies are declared to have lost heavily, and they will be among the witnesses against the indicted men.

"A civil action against Tennant is now pending in the United States District Court, and the prosecution in the criminal case will follow closely along the line of evidence in the civil suit.

"Special Accountant Jernegan has made three trips to Los Angeles since beginning his inquiry. He was the chief witness in the grand jury investigation which resulted in the return of the indictment."

SAN FRANCISCO TO EXTEND CITY CAR LINE

SAN FRANCISCO, July 31.—It is announced that the city intends to extend the municipal street car line to the Presidio and Fort Scott, where the United States army intends to concentrate a large army. The street car line may be used to facilitate the transportation of troops in case of emergency.

WIFE OF BECKER SITS BY COFFIN AND SOBS 'CHARLIE IS INNOCENT'

NEW YORK, July 31.—The body of Charles Becker today lies in the little apartment of Mrs. Becker in the Bronx. Nine flickering candles illuminate the death room. The shades are drawn. Mrs. Becker completely collapsed upon the arrival of her coffin from Ossining. She sits beside the remains sobbing, "Charlie is innocent."

COUNCILWOMAN IS ON THE JOB TO PROTECT EMPLOYEES OF CITY

LOS ANGELES, July 31.—Councilwoman Lindsey is planning to prevent the discharge of twenty five per cent of all city employees on account of lack of funds. She plans to call the employees together and ask them to accept a wage decrease to prevent wholesale dismissals. She thinks it better for all to suffer slightly than for many to lose their jobs.

$390,000 PROFIT MADE BY GREAT SAN FRANCISCO EXPOSITION

SAN FRANCISCO, July 31.—The exposition accounting department today issued a statement showing the fair's net profits for the past three weeks to be $210,243, or more than the entire net profits for the previous twenty weeks.

The net profits to date are $390,000. July's attendance totaled 2,000,000. Officials estimate 10,000,000 admissions will be registered before the closing on December 4.

WAR NOT TO SWELL IMMIGRATION TO U. S.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 31.—Secretary of Labor W. B. Wilson declared today that European immigration will be below normal for several years following the war. He said war sufferers would not leave their homes unless forced to. Their governments would also do everything possible to keep the people at home.

BRYAN WON'T RUN— BUT MAYBE HE WILL

PORTLAND, July 31.—W. J. Bryan, in an interview today, declared that he did not contemplate being a candidate or occupying any political position, but added that he believed it unnecessary to promise never under any circumstances to be a candidate again.

LABOR PEACE COUNCIL OPENS S. F. SESSIONS

WASHINGTON, July 31.—The Labor Peace Council opened its session this morning. Former Congressman Fowler, the council's attorney, when asked if it was true the Germans financed the council, replied:

3 FOUND GUILTY IN LOS ANGELES INVESTMENT CO. CASE

LOS ANGELES, July 31.—The jury trying the Los Angeles Investment Company officials on charges of using the mails in furtherance of a conspiracy to defraud yesterday afternoon found Charles A. Elder, W. D. Deeble and G. M. Derby guilty.

Sentence will be pronounced next Thursday. The maximum sentence is two years imprisonment and $10,000 fine.

Charles C. Davis, A. P. Thompson, Ernest Ingold, Charles L. Bagley, F. L. Mowder, Harry D. Rodgers, Earl B. Elder and W. F. Gates were exonerated.

WIELDS KNIFE AS HE ATTEMPTS TO ESCAPE FROM JUVENILE HOME

William Giese, One of Boys Living at the Home, Is Stabbed Thrice

In preventing Beltram Salazar from escaping from the Orange County Juvenile Home on Grand avenue yesterday evening, William Giese, one of the boys living at the home, was stabbed three times by Salazar, who is 14 years of age. Yesterday afternoon Judge W. H. Thomas ordered Salazar and Melvin Smith, aged 15, taken to the Whittier State School. The two boys were arrested at Orange Thursday night while riding about in an automobile they had taken. They were taken to the Juvenile Home yesterday afternoon and were to stay there until this morning.

While C. B. Munson, manager of the Juvenile Home, was taking some bedding into the room where Salazar and Smith were, Salazar suddenly started to go past Munson into the hall. When Munson asked Salazar where he was going Salazar started to run. Smith made no attempt to escape.

Young Giese, who was standing near by, grappled with Salazar. Salazar stabbed Giese thrice, once in the chest, the point of the knife striking the bone, once in the leg and once on the left arm. The wound in the chest bled profusely. None of the wounds are serious.

When Munson saw that Salazar had a knife and was trying to escape he quickly took Salazar by the arms. James Howard, another boy who lives at the home, took the knife away from Salazar. Munson has no knowledge of how Salazar came into possession of the knife. Salazar had been searched before being locked in the room with Smith.

This morning Salazar and Smith were taken to Whittier by Probation Officer J. H. Probst.

White is the Color of Peace, and Very Appropriately This is the Garb of the Cabinet.

At the last meeting of the cabinet which made the final draft of the note to Germany on the case of the Lusitania and the use of German submarines, which was considered by some persons one of the most momentous meetings of the presidential advisors in many years, seven members dressed in white. They are shown here. Secretary Lane so far broke the rule as to wear a blue wool coat.

It was at this meeting that the note drawn by the President and his secretary of state, was gone over and approved. The note was received Friday, July 23, by Ambassador Gerard, and at once taken to Foreign Minister von Jagow.

EASTLAND PROBE IS DEVELOPING UNSAFE CONDITION OF VESSEL

CHICAGO, July 31.—Captain Dority, former skipper of the Eastland, today told Secretary of Commerce Redfield and the investigating committee that the vessel could not have carried one thousand passengers with her water ballast tanks empty. She had twenty-five hundred aboard when she overturned.

S. G. Jenks, designer of the Eastland, testified before the grand jury, exhibiting models and designs of the hull.

MADE TO LIVE IN A TENT, ASKS DIVORCE

SAN FRANCISCO, July 31.—Clyde M. Ward today sued for a divorce. He alleges his wife hurled umbrellas so frequently that he and his son had to live in a tent in the back yard.

AMERICAN ARMY FLYING BRANCH IS INADEQUATE SAYS AVIATOR

SAN FRANCISCO, July 31.—Art Smith, the noted aviator, today declared that the American army's aeroplane branch was totally inadequate.

In the event of war, Smith asserted, less than two hundred American aviators would be available, while the supply of aeroplanes is even less.

Exhibition machines he characterized as useless for war purposes, and in the event of war the government would be compelled to wait until the factories could manufacture war aeroplanes.

Smith declared that greater government support, greater appropriations and constant experimentation were necessary to make American aviation modern.

When the European war started France had 2500 aviators.

In the event of war in the United States, said the aviator, the army would be helpless as superior forces, aided by flocks of scouting planes, could massacre the small American force in short order.

MOBS IN TEXAS SEEK 2 NEGROES TO LYNCH

TEMPLE, Tex., July 31.—Mobs are today hunting two negroes alleged to have been implicated in the slaying of three children.

One negro, Will Stanley, was burned at the stake last night.

STEAMER GROUNDS IN RIVER; NONE INJURED

DETROIT, July 31.—The steamer Oronic went aground this morning in the Detroit river, just off Grosbe Point. Tugs have been rushed to the scene and are endeavoring to float the vessel.

All the passengers are safe. The Northern Navigation Company owns the Oronic, which is considered one of the finest steamers on the Great Lakes.

PITTSBURG, July 31.—Harry Thaw left this morning for San Francisco.

WARSAW FALLING AS SLAVS FLEE; LINER IS SUNK; ONE AMERICAN LIFE LOST

BERLIN, July 31.—The German army is today preparing to victoriously occupy Warsaw. The Teuton sweep is carrying all before it.

The Russians have abandoned their entire line north and south of the city. Thousands have surrendered.

There is great excitement here in Berlin.

The Kaiser and Kaiserine are near the front, ready to lead the triumphal entry into the city.

General Von Hindenburg is acclaimed as a hero because of his prediction that Warsaw would be captured on the first of August.

AMERICAN BOAT REPORTED HALTED BY GERMANS

AMSTERDAM, July 31.—It is reported here today that a German patrol ship has stopped the American steamship Portland and taken her into Swinemunde, Prussia.

The Portland is owned by the Globe Grain and Milling Company of Los Angeles.

RUSIANS ADMIT WARSAW HAS BEEN EVACUATED

PETROGRAD, July 31.—Warsaw has been evacuated.

It is admitted today that all industries in the city have been dismantled and everything of military value removed, while all Russian subjects have fled.

While the Russian armies held the Germans, Grand Duke Nicholas conducted the retreat along the two hundred mile front.

RUSSIANS LOSE ALL BUT ONE RAILROAD INTO WARSAW

VIENNA, July 31.—The Austrians have captured Lublin and cut the important Lublin-Warsaw railroad, thus leaving the Russians only one line into Warsaw.

Lublin is thirty-eight miles southeast of Lvangelod, one of the most important of Warsaw fortresses.

RUSSIAN EVACUATION NEAR COMPLETE IN POLAND

LONDON, July 31.—Dispatches received here today by the war office indicate that the Russian evacuation of Poland is almost complete.

The main Slav armies are reported established along a new defense line between Kovno and Prastilovsk. The latter point is one hundred and fifteen miles east of Warsaw.

The Russians are continuing their rear-guard actions, harassing the pursuing enemy.

LEYLAND LINER IBERIAN SUNK BY TEUTON SUBMARINE

LONDON, July 31.—It is announced today that a German submarine has torpedoed and sunk the Leyland liner Iberian. Five sailors are said to have perished, a near-by trawler saving the remainder.

Sixty of the survivors have been put ashore safely.

The Iberian, which is a steel vessel of 5000 tons, sailed for Boston Thursday. Her cargo is not known.

The vessel has been transporting horses to the allies from America.

LIVE NEWS GATHERED FROM NEARBY TOWNS

NEWS LETTER OF SEAL BEACH

SEAL BEACH, July 31.—Mr. Keeran, the young and energetic manager of the dance hall at Seal Beach, is sure doing some fine work. He is welcoming all and giving them a good time—as well as good music—and is going to give prize dancing and several other new stunts, which will surely be of great interest to our people. Come down and see us. Welcome to all.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Keeran and Mrs. D. M. Rue, all of Seal Beach, returned yesterday evening from a few days' visit at Catalina Island, where they caught thirteen large albacore, ranging from 18 to 35 pounds each. Good for the fishers.

When down at Seal Beach and you get tired of walking and standing, don't forget to go to the Seal Beach Inn where Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Brown, who are in charge, will do all in their power to give you a good rest and make you feel at home. In the near future you will be able to enjoy at Seal Beach Inn a fine fish dinner or any other good thing your heart may desire.

The Citizens of Seal Beach are going to incorporate and be independent—that is, they will own what they have, make their own town laws and live up to them, as all good little cities should do. For Orange county, with her towns, or cities, as you may call them, has the brains as well as good people, to take care of their own affairs and not ask any sister city for advice or help.

The fine bathing at Seal Beach is surely the talk of the country, for the Seal Beach Inn was honored by a visit from old friends of Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Brown, the Rev. W. B. Riley and wife of Minneapolis, who went away delighted and with the best wishes for the coming beach of California.

The day's register showing at Seal Beach was: W. P. Brown, Los Angeles; R. Haynes and wife, Los Angeles; William Romedon, Venice; Mr. and Mrs. Horton, Riverside; Mr. and Mrs. McCarty, Pomona; G. L. Stevens, Philadelphia.

R. B. Armstrong and family have moved in to their beautiful home in Seal Beach Court. Welcome to our city!

R. Gildberg of Los Angeles was down and spent the day at the beach. He says that the beach is surely coming to the front.

H. G. Magie, the energetic little hustler, is always on the job helping to boost the city of Seal Beach, and to give the visitors a good time. He says, "Come, bring your friend and enjoy yourself on the beach that has no underdog."

The Santa Ana Register, the newspaper of news, is doing some fine work in Seal Beach, and from the talk of the Seal Beachites it will only be a short time before they will claim the paper as a home journal, and it surely will be the duty of all of us good old citizens to say to the editor, "Please send me your paper daily."

HARPER SECTION
NEWS BUDGET

HARPER, July 31.—Mr. Fargher, who has a ranch a couple of miles northeast of here, is certainly going to have one of the show places of the county. His house, which is nearing completion, is a model of beauty and convenience. Such improvements as this add greatly to the beauty of the country.

An ice cream lawn social was held Thursday evening at the residence of Alonzo White at which ice cream, punch and melons were served. It was given under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid, and was a great success. The number present is not known but it seemed that almost every one in the community was there and all seemed to enjoy the occasion greatly.

Clema Scott of Santa Ana has been visiting her friend, Miss Nina Fowler. She came down Friday night for the musical and returned yesterday. Marie Pope had a birthday, incidentally a party. Quite a few of her girl friends spent a very enjoyable afternoon at her home.

From now on church will be at 7:30 p. m. instead of in the morning.

Beulah Snow spent Monday night with Nora Lykke of Paulirino.

Mrs. Jas. King and Mrs. H. H. Snow made a trip over through Tustin Monday after plums and peaches.

Misses Nora Lykke, Nina Fowler and Beulah Snow; Messrs. Frank Singleton, Frank Fowler and Ben Lieberman spent Sunday afternoon at Rocky Point.

Water has been shut off on the Fairview farm, north of the tracks, waiting for repairs on the pump.

Rev. M. S. Grew and family are spending a few days on their lemon ranch north of Harper.

Nora Lykke of Paulirino spent Saturday and Sunday with Beulah Snow.

A very enjoyable musicale and ice cream social was given by the King's Daughters' Circle, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Swale. The lawn was lighted by Japanese lanterns and plenty of seats were provided. The porch was beautifully decorated and used as a stage, from which a very creditable program was rendered by some talent. All was well rendered.

The trio by Mr. and Mrs. Dodge and Mrs. Napier and readings by Miss Burns and Rev. Maxwell were worthy of special mention. The girls were well pleased with the financial ending as they cleared over $20. They expect to use the money to help some poor girl who is not so fortunate as they. Half of the money goes to the minister. Mrs. Harmon, Mrs. Swale's mother, came in with a helping hand as usual and presented the girls with the ice cream.

M. Sweetser made a business trip to Los Angeles Wednesday.

George Steidinger is spending a week with Malcom Wharton at Seal Beach to recuperate.

Paul Davis of Santa Ana and Thomas Tournot spent part of this week as guests of Malcom Wharton at Dr. and Mrs. Violet's beach home at Seal Beach.

Mrs. McKeen gave her grandson, Charley, a party last Monday at her home, the occasion being his eighth birthday.

The afternoon was spent in games little folks enjoy. Refreshments of sandwiches, ice cream and a splendid birthday cake illuminated by eight candles, was served.

Those who enjoyed the afternoon with Charley were Ben Richey, Catherine Richey, Paul Brierty and Leslie Gardner.

One of the most pleasant social events that has taken place in Garden Grove for some time was enjoyed at the home of Mrs. McKeen and her son, Charley, Thursday, when the ladies of Shiloh Circle No. 21, of the G. A. R. entertained the Post, the wives and families.

The porch and interior of the house were decorated in real patriotic style very suitable to the occasion.

The forenoon was spent in receiving the guests and making preparations for the bountiful dinner that was partaken of at noon by between sixty-five and seventy who gathered to enjoy the day. Mr. McKeen's player piano furnished music for the guests while they ate, after which a program of speeches was rendered. The president of the Circle presided.

The following gentlemen were called on, Judge Langley of Santa Ana being the first to respond in his characteristic, witty and happy manner. The judge referred principally to the dinner and entertainment of the day, stating that the only lack of the day was the capacity to hold the good thing provided. The judge's speech caused much merriment and was highly enjoyed by all. The judge closed his remarks by calling upon Commander Gardner of Santa Ana, formerly of Iowa. He expressed himself as being very much delighted with the day and the cordial treatment he had received from the members of the Circle and G. A. R. in general, saying that he hoped to spend the rest of his life in sunny California.

Commander Brooks was then called on and in his speech paid a large tribute of respect to Mrs. McKeen and her son for the royal reception extended to them.

He referred to the heart-rending condition of other nations now engaged in the bloody struggles of war and the contrast between the conditions existing in their happy gathering that day and the homes and hearts made sad by the European conflict and also at this time of peace the nation should remember the privation and sufferings that have made possible the condition of our nation at this time.

The speeches were concluded by an address by Mr. Baker of Santa Ana. He referred to the struggles and hardships endured by the mothers who were not at the front but in the homes fighting their battles alone, and also of the kindness of the young women of the present day in providing entertainment and comforts for the veterans. He closed his address by calling for a rising vote of thanks and three cheers for Mrs. McKeen and her son.

After some time spent in greetings and conversation in general, the day's festivities closed with expressions of gratitude for the day's pleasure.

The following members of the G. A. R. were present, representing eight states of the Union: Those from Santa Ana were Messrs. G. A. W. Faust, J. S. Brooks, G. W. Baker, E. T. Langley, King, C. S. Shaw, C. N. Martin, O. H. Maryatt, J. F. Sandry, M. Hungerford. From Garden Grove, Messrs. J. H. Quilick, T. Niles, P. E. Newsum, McCullough, King, F. E. Anderson, Wells.

A party of young people accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. German, spent Thursday evening at the beach home of Dr. and Mrs. C. C. Violet at Seal Beach. The young people spent the evening in moonlight bathing, conversation, music, etc.

Refreshments of ice cream, wafers and cocoa were served by the Violets. The Violet family proved themselves royal entertainers, and all enjoyed the evening hugely.

One of the interesting things was to notice the transformation in the building which was formerly known as the Hammond drug store at Garden Grove, which was wrecked and taken to Seal Beach and converted into a very neat and modern beach cottage which they have named the Sandab and which holds out a royal welcome to all Garden Grove friends.

Rev. and Mrs. Hull returned Thursday evening from their trip to the northern part of the state by automobile. They had a most delightful trip and enjoyed every moment of their two-and-a-half weeks' absence from home. We hope to give a fuller account of this trip next week.

CHANGE IS MADE IN DIRECTORATE OF L. A. I. CO. TUESDAY

(From L. A. Financial News.)

Three of the oldest members of the directorate of the Los Angeles Investment Company who have controlled the affairs of the company since the retirement of the Elder directors, resigned on Tuesday owing to the press of their personal business and the further fact that they believed they had discharged obligations to the corporation made when they consented to enter the corporation. The three named are J. E. Fishburn, whose resignation was dated April 15; Stoddard Jess, whose resignation was dated July 1, and Harry Chandler, dated July 20. Manager Austin O. Martin in a public statement declared that the gentlemen named had been, for a long time, anxious to be relieved of the responsibility in connection with their position as directors. Said Mr. Martin:

"The three retiring directors had wished for some time to withdraw from the board and quite unwillingly allowed their names to be used at the January election. They did consent to serve, however, until such time as the new members of the board had become familiar with the situation in the company. They feel now that they have outlined the proper course for the company to pursue to reach a successful issue, to preserve the corporation any hold it to the stockholders. The more important problems have been met which faced the company when the directorate of which they were a part took hold November 10, 1914, and Messrs. Fishburn, Jess and Chandler felt that they should be permitted to retire."

The directors have received no compensation directly or indirectly for the time and effort they have given to the company. It was understood that it was never their intention to remain permanently as directors nor to continue the real estate and investment business of the company after the critical stage of the affairs had been passed. It was their declared purpose to straighten out the company's affairs to the best of their ability and then turn the business over to the stockholders to decide whether the business should be liquidated or a new board of directors elected to conduct it as a going concern. That policy has been adhered to and culminated in their resignation.

ability and then turn the business over to the stockholders to decide whether the business should be liquidated or a new board of directors elected to conduct it as a going concern. That policy has been adhered to and culminated in their resignation.

New Directors Chosen

Succeeding to the vacancies the following were elected: A. T. Welles, a retired Indiana manufacturer, now a resident of Altadena, who is himself a large stockholder of the Los Angeles Investment Company; W. P. Jeffries, of the Jeffries Printing Company, prominent in local business and fraternal circles, and now president of the Pasadena Development Corporation, a subsidiary of the investment company; and T. E. Gibson, well-known attorney, member of the Board of Freeholders, former editor of the Morning Herald, former counsel for the Salt Lake railway, who has been prominently identified in public life in Los Angeles for a number of years. The board as now constituted consists of Senator F. P. Flint, president of the company; Dr. John R. Haynes, J. J. Byrne, Joseph Scott and the three gentlemen above named.

At the meeting of the directors when the three resignations were submitted, Senator Flint, president of the company, submitted a letter which recommended against the institution of suits to collect the notes of the debtor stockholders of the company. No action was taken on the matter by the new board and it is said nothing will be done in the matter until the new board has had time to study the situation. Mr. Flint's letter follows:

Senator Flint's Letter

"I desire to call your attention to certain matters in connection with the affairs of this corporation, in view of the fact that I have been advised that certain members of our board of directors intend to resign at today's meeting, and it is expected that other persons will be selected to fill the places made vacant by said resignations.

"In view of the fact that a large part of the time of the officers of this corporation and this board of directors has been taken up in an endeavor to adjust what are known as the debtor stockholders' obligations and over twelve hundred applications to settle and compromise these obligations have been received, and a great many of these applications have been submitted to the board of directors and action taken in reference to same, and in many instances settlements have been made with the debtors, I deem it to be my duty to make certain recommendations in reference to this matter.

"When my attention was called to the possibility of changes on the board, I directed the officers to make no further settlements with the debtors until the matter could be submitted to the new members of the board, for the reason that unless a uniform policy was to be pursued in connection with the settlement of this entire matter, it might work injustice on the stockholders who settled at this time; and I desire to call your attention to these matters so that they may be given consideration by this board at an early date.

"I have reached the conclusion, after carefully examining about a thousand applications, that more than seventy-five per cent of the applicants are insolvent or financially irresponsible, and that the company would not be justified in expending the money necessary to institute suit in an endeavor to collect on these notes, and that unless a very liberal policy is adopted by the board, the settlement of these claims, the company will be placed to great expense in costs and attorneys' fees, and in my opinion the same is unnecessary, and should be avoided if possible.

"I have advised the debtors from time to time as they have called upon me that no suits to enforce collection of these notes would be commenced unless the board of directors should authorize that this action be taken, and it appears to me that either one of two plans should be adopted at this time: Either that this board of directors should authorize the officers of this corporation to settle and adjust these claims on terms that in the opinion of the officers should be fair and just, and in an honest endeavor to settle a real controversy that exists between these debtors and this corporation, said settlements to be upon the express understanding that the same are not to be effective unless properly ratified by the stockholders. Or, in the event that this plan is not approved by the board, I recommend that no further action be taken in reference to the settlement of these debtor stockholders' obligations, but that the matter be reported to the stockholders at the annual meeting in January, with a request that a resolution be adopted by the stockholders, should they give definite instructions to the new board of directors that compromise, if any, should be made with these debtor stockholders. At an early date the stockholders should be advised that the affairs of the company have now reached the stage where the company should either go into liquidation or that a board of directors should be elected that would undertake to carry on the business for which the corporation was organized. I submit this matter for your consideration at this time.

"Yours respectfully,

"FRANK P. FLINT."

A new treasurer and a new third vice-president of the Los Angeles Investment Company to succeed J. E. Fishburn and Harry Chandler, who resigned from those respective offices, will be chosen at the meeting of the reorganized board of directors of the company next Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

News from the Movie Play Houses

CRANE, DAWN, SELWYN STARS AT WEST END

Of all the books and plays that have been produced and written in recent years, nothing has yet taken a hold on the public like "David Harum." For real fun and enjoyment it would be almost impossible to find its equal. Many local movie patrons are expected to go to the new West End Theater tomorrow (Sunday) and see William H. Crane as "David Harum."

Gambler's Advocate

Hazel Dawn, the charming stage favorite who gained a great personal triumph in her last screen appearance, in "Niobe," a recent Famous Players Film Company production, adds another success to her stage and screen conquests as "Clarissa" in "Gambler's Advocate," this company's latest release on the Paramount Program.

This feature is attracting much attention where it has been exhibited and will be seen Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday at the new West End Theater.

"Gambler's Advocate," by Ronald MacDonald, created quite a stir when published as a novel, and this interest will reach its maximum degree through the wider circulation of the film. Clarissa, while at boarding school, receives word from her father that he has re-married and asking her to return home to meet her new step-mother. On her arrival she finds that her new mother is not much older than herself, and at first does not take kindly to her. In a very short while this early diffidence changes to a great love between the two women, and subsequently this love is given a severe test. The mother foolishly falls in love with a magnetic stranger, Stephen Gambler, and one day is seen in his embrace by both Clarissa and her father. Clarissa, fearing her father will commit a rash act in his moment of anger and jealousy, rushes from her hiding place just in time to send the mother away and accept the advances of the stranger (whom she has met but a few days before) in order to make her father believe that it was she and not his wife whom he had seen in the arms of the man.

The story is developed with increasing interest and suspense.

The Jesse L. Lasky Feature Play Company has selected a cast of extraordinary excellence to support Edgar Selwyn, the famous Broadway star, in the pictureization of his own drama, "The Arab." This company includes Theodore Roberts in the highly important role of the Turkish governor, who is the rival of "The Arab" for the love of the missionary's daughter and who is the evil genius of the play. Mr. Roberts brings to this character his usual incomparable art, and seems actually to be inspired with the spirit of Mohammedan fanaticism. Others in the company are such Lasky favorites as Horace B. Carpenter, Milton Brown, Billy Elmer, Sydney Deane, Gertrude Robinson, Park Jones and Raymond Hatton.

Many of the scenes of "The Arab" were taken by Director De Mille far from the Lasky studio in the heart of the great American desert. This has resulted in an amazing realism, and people who have the good fortune to witness this production may veritably believe themselves to be transported across seas into the land where the enmity between Christian and Turk is a source of continual danger and such events as those in this thrilling play actually happen from time to time. "The Arab" will be the big thrilling feature at the new West End Theater on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, this coming week.

TO IMPORT BEET SEED FROM GERMANY

WASHINGTON, July 31.—Conditional assurances were received yesterday from Great Britain that importation of German sugar beet seed to plant next year's American crop will be permitted as a result of informal negotiations by the state department.

Each shipment will be considered by British officials on its merits and will not be molested by three conditions imposed by Great Britain, are met. It must be shown that the seed is available for purchase only in Germany; shipments must be made from neutral ports only and there can be no exchange of American commodities with the German exporter.

Shipments that do not fill all of these conditions will be stopped under the order in council.

The agreement is expected to give American sugar beet farmers an adequate supply of seed, which is produced only in Germany. Negotiations with Germany completed some time ago, effected the release of a sufficient amount to supply the American demand.

TRIPLE LINKERS' GAME

Orange News, July 30: The Odd Fellows' ball teams are well tuned up for tomorrow's game with the triple link aggregation from Huntington Beach. The battle is set for 3 o'clock at the high school grounds. It is highly probable that there will be some missing links before the contest has gone far but no mercy will be shown as the local team has bloodshot eyes. Feldner, Gillogly, Donovan, Gardner, Barker and a number of other good blacksmiths are in the local line-up. As Donovan is a cousin of Amos Rusie we can't see where the beach club has a chance.

MAE MARSH shows a new side to her versatile theatrical character in "The Victim," the three-part Mutual Master-picture by Paul West, in which she takes the part of a thoroughly domesticated, fine natured mother and wife. Miss Marsh is one of the most noted of the exceptionally talented actresses who are doing screen work today. The scenes in this unusually moving drama test her great powers to the utmost, and, as a clergyman declared who saw "The Victim" recently in New York, "most people would walk ten miles to see Miss Marsh, and I would too." "The Victim" will be shown at Clune's Theater on Saturday and Sunday of this week.

'THE ROSARY' BILLED AT CLUNE'S THEATER

Clune's Theater will offer the seven-reel Selig Red Seal Play, "The Rosary," on next Monday and Tuesday as one of the big features of the year. A more artistic and dramatic photoplay could hardly be imagined than this production by the Selig Polyscope Company. It is based upon the famous drama by Edward E. Rose and tells the story of the many trying events which fill the life of Father Kelly. From childhood he was told that his calling was the church and his heart directed him that way, but in early manhood when a young girl came into his life he wavered for a short time from his determination. He won the girl, which raged in his heart, however, and devoted himself to the church. Later in life a boy—the son of the woman he loved—came to him and Father Kelly cared for the boy as though he were his own. The boy grew to manhood and married. His wife's sister was ruined by a worthless fellow and in protecting the girl's name the wife aroused the husband's suspicion. A separation followed and Father Kelly, heartbroken over the tragedy, did all he could to bring them together. In the end he was successful and happiness came into their lives again.

Eminent cast seen in "The Devil's Daughter" at Clune's Theater, next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, August 4, 5, 6. For "The Devil's Daughter," the latest William Fox release starring extraordinary woman, Theda Bara, of the Antoine in Paris, the selection of a cast by Director Frank Powell, was an unusual difficult task. "The Devil's Daughter" is based upon the famous work by Gabrielle D'Annunzio (the author of "Cabiria"), La Gioconda and requires extraordinarily endowed players to set forth intelligently on the screen this wonderful story of the havoc wrought by an evil and beautiful siren in the lives of her victims.

Paul Doucet, a celebrated Broadway star, enacts Lucio Sattala, a sculptor whose life and ambitions fall prey to "The Devil's Daughter." Robert Wayne gives a forceful and finished portrayal of Lorenzo Gaddi, the old sculptor. Jane Miller, the beautiful leading woman of "Life" and "From the Valley of the Missing," renders Francesca Doni, a beautiful and appealing picture, while Doris Heywood, as Sylvia, the wife of Sattala, who sees her husband enslaved by The Vampire, gives a splendidly dramatic performance, most moving in its deeper moments and brilliantly handled throughout. Victor Benoit is the Cosimo Dalbo, betrothed to Francesca, and Edouard Durand is cast for the powerful role of Roffiano.

Every other part in the big play is exceptionally well cast.

GOOD LINE OF FILMS AT LYRIC THEATER

Tonight (Saturday) two two-part features are on the program, and if you enjoy comedy, don't fail to see Billie Ritchie in that side-splitting roar, "The Curse of the Werewolf." Critics say it is equal to any Charlie Chaplin. See for yourself. "From Italy's Shore" is the other two-reeler, and it is an enthralling story from start to finish. Other photo plays go to make up a dandy Saturday program.

For Sunday and Monday this popular little theater is presenting Mary Fuller in a three-act Broadway feature of mystery and romance, entitled "A Daughter of the Nile." The fifth narrative, "Under the Crescent," entitled "In the Name of the King," in two acts. The program ends with one of those Rosemary Theby and Harry Myers comedies, entitled "Mumps." It's a program of merit.

Tuesday and Wednesday that big four-act Broadway feature, "Court Martialed," is the headliner. Few dramas since the start of the European conflict have been produced which tell as powerful a story as this feature. A big smashing cast of players headed by Hobart Henley, Frances Nelson, Allen Holubar, William Welsh, Miss Knott and Howard Crampton, enact the leading roles. Its a story with a big appeal and is richly enjoyed by both old and young. "When Hubby Grew Jealous" is the title of a Nestor comedy with Billy Rhodes, and then there is a feature drama in one act entitled "From the Shadows," with Frank Lloyd, Helen Leslie and Gretchen Lederer.

ACE OF HEARTS IS TO SHOW AT PRINCESS

"The Ace of Hearts," which is to be shown at the Princess Theater Monday and Tuesday, is a remarkably strong two-reel western number, abounding in good scenic effects. Walter Edwards, Charles Ray and Ethel Ullman play the leads; the part of Batiste is also well handled. The story contains a murder mystery, and the manner in which the sergeant traces the criminal is not so obvious as frequently happens. The avalanche and struggle in the snow all make good out-door effects. This is stronger than the usual western offering.

FILM FLASHES OF FACT AND FANCY

Vivian Rich, whose pretty face has appeared in Mutual dramas at the Princess Theater, caused a furore in a Santa Barbara cafe recently when, gowned in expensive silk, she plunged in among the gold fish in the restaurant fountain. Women who saw the film star's leap shrieked in horror. A man sitting at a nearby table leaped in after Miss Rich to effect a rescue. For several minutes everything was in confusion. Then, in an obscure corner, Director Arthur MacMackin and a man slowly turning the crank on a camera were seen and pointed out. Director MacMackin is a stickler for realism. It was he who arranged with the cafe proprietor for Miss Rich's plunge among the gold fish. Wishing to create a furore among his guests, the proprietor had not announced the contemplated thriller. It came as more of a surprise than the proprietor had anticipated.

Chester Conklin, Keystone gloom chaser, is something besides an actor. He is a linguist, speaking five languages fluently. He can also make himself understood in two other languages, one of which, his friends declare, is Chinese. But Chester won't admit it.

Billy Sheer, member of the Keystone stock company, was a well known jockey before entering screen work. He tells many interesting stories of the turf.

NEWPORT HARBOR

The movement to organize the county into a harbor improvement district should not meet with any opposition whatever. On the contrary it should and probably will have unanimous and hearty support.

With a harbor at Newport would come intense development of the county's almost unlimited agricultural resources, and all productive industry would thrive—be more profitable to the workers and to capital as well. New manufacturing industries would be established, and those we now have would prosper and be expanded. Wholesale business would come and commerce on a large scale would characterize the community life.

And these material benefits would not be for Newport and Santa Ana alone but proportionately for all the county and for our sister counties to the north and east.

The Newport Harbor proposition is a big thing and should not be dealt with in other than a big, broad, public-spirited manner.

SUMMER HOMES

One of the big features of the modern vacation season is the great number of people who own or rent little shacks in the country, mountains, or on the seashore. Little wildwood lakes that never used to hear anything more exciting than bird calls or the whistle of the farmer's boy, now resound with the laughter of gaily dressed young people. Families that have ample homes in cities will inhabit little shanties with scarce the space contained in a couple of rooms at home.

The beauty of summer bungalow life is its homelike feeling. At a summer hotel, no matter how charming the company, one has the feeling of always being under inspection. It is a perpetual dress parade. The gossips have nothing to do but to watch their fellow sojourners. You must be scrumptiously dressed every minute, or acquire a reputation for under breeding. Many people enjoy that kind of thing. It is the game of life for them, and they like the competition in good manners and style.

With others a summer vacation means general relaxation. Half the pleasure of the thing is wearing everyday clothes. There is a sense of relief in not having to do the society act.

Summer hotel life is particularly irksome to the children. To a live boy, whose ideal is the American Indian, the sojourn at a place where he must go through a perpetual grind of washing, combing, shoe blacking, dressing up in clean clothes, is torture indeed. When in addition to that he must answer questions, tell his name and his age and how far along he is in school, the thing is unendurable to juvenile flesh.

A family vacation ought to be a general rough and tumble for the youngsters. Many families break with favorite hotel resorts at about the time when their children get active, and demand a free and untrammelled life in some little family home of their own.

READING ALOUD

Some discussion is noted among educational authorities as to the value of teaching children to read aloud. The old time school gave great prominence to reading. It is one of the traditional "three R's." Modern authorities seem to think it has been over-emphasized, as indicated by articles in recent school journals.

The old time drill, over and over again on a certain set of reading books, was not time well spent. The pupil gained no taste for reading, and became weary of the selections of poetry and oratory which he was asked to recite many times. But at least this training produced a generation of good readers.

You can find today a great many high school graduates who can not take a newspaper and read it aloud without stumbling at every line. The same thing could be said of some college graduates.

The case becomes far worse when you consider the large number of foreigners found in many schools. The child of alien parents hears little English at home. Unless he learns to read fluently in school, his talk will always seem foreign. He may have excellent mentality, and may be competent for a high grade of work. Yet if his speech has this thick burr of an alien brogue, it will be a handicap to him all through life. He will pass for a great deal more stupid person than he is. Employers of laborers will set him to shovelling coal when he might be directing a gang of workmen, merely because his thick speech makes him seem like a foreigner.

Similarly with young people descended from English speaking parents. In daily life one is constantly called upon to read something aloud. If a young man can not read a report to a committee or board of directors without hesitation and tripping over ordinary words, he is set down as an ignoramus. The time has not come when the schools can drop reading aloud.

WHEN HOT WEATHER OPPRESSES

When you suffer from a feeling of oppression, when a naturally keen and alert brain seems dull and stupid, when bodily strength seems lacking and you are inert and languid—do not blame it altogether on hot weather. The hot sun will not effect you half so much if the bowels are regular and the liver active and healthy. Foley Cathartic Tablets are the ideal remedy for indigestion and constipation. They give stout persons relief from that uncomfortable bloated and congested feeling. Rowley Drug Co.

AGAIN THOSE CHUCK HOLES

Editor Register: Why don't Santa Ana and Orange county wake up? Why don't our City Trustees and Board of Supervisors get after the Pacific Electric with a big stick—or a bed slat? Why do our city authorities permit and commit deliberate violations of the law which involve the comfort and safety of users of our paved streets? Is Santa Ana so anxious to be the "best-cursed" town in Southern California?

I refer, of course, to Santa Ana's marvelous collection of "chuck-holes" in her paved streets; to her equally marvelous laxity with paving alongside of and between Pacific Electric tracks; to the complacent indifference with which the city, apparently, bears up under her "bump-the-bumps" system of railroad and street car crossings.

Why? Why? WHY?
Hasn't Santa Ana got the money to repair her streets? She calls herself the county seat of the "richest little county in California."

Hasn't Santa Ana got any civic pride? She refers to herself as the most advanced and progressive city in Southern California.

Or is it true, as some state official recently remarked, that Santa Ana has just been lying down and permitting the Pacific Electric and other corporations to play her for an easy mark?

Santa Ana and Orange county have the worst street car crossings in the state. We have crossings that have earned us more heart-felt profanity der gute Rirte." English Preaching 7:30 p. m. subject: "What Think Ye of Christ?" The morning service will be conducted by Mr. Wm. Schlueter and the evening service by Mr. A. H. Grumm, both students of theology from the Lutheran Concordia Seminary, St. Louis, Mo.

First Methodist Church
Corner Sixth and Spurgeon. E. J. Inwood, pastor.
Sunday school 9:30 a. m. Morning worship 11 a. m. Young People's service 6:15 p. m. Evening worship 7:30 p. m. For the evening service, this church unites with the other churches of the city in two union Sunday evening services. One of the city pastors preaches at each of these services.

Sunday school at 9:45 a. m. English service at 10:30 a. m. subject: "The Holy Bible."

from all classes of tourists than any other dozen cities and counties.

Santa Ana has a couple of miles of paving alongside of the Pacific Electric tracks on North Main street that are absolutely ruinous to automobiles. An automobile dealer in Santa Ana was discussing this with the writer not long ago. He said this "alongside-the-rails" paving ruined more automobile tires than the whole coast boulevard from San Francisco to San Diego put together—which, of course, was a somewhat exaggerated statement.

"Well," I remarked, "you shouldn't holler—it's a good thing for you tire dealers, isn't it?"

"But, damn it," he replied, "don't it ruin my own tires?"

The "alongside-the-track" paving on North Main street isn't all the autoist has to complain of. Gas companies, water companies—the last being a department owned and controlled by the city of Santa Ana—go out any old time they take a notion, and dig holes in the pavement to lay pipe or mains. That finished, they cheerfully chuck a couple of shovels of dirt into the hole and go their way, unmolested and unafraid. The resulting "chuck-hole" may break an automobile spring; it may wreck a car; it may even result in injury or death to the occupants of a machine. What do they care?

The city has an ordinance providing that such excavations must be repaired properly.

Nobody pretends to enforce it. Anybody can go out over our streets and count chuck holes till he gets dizzy.

Some time ago there was agitation to have the "alongside-the-tracks" paving attended to.

The Pacific Electric company sent out a gang or several gangs of men. They scattered a few shovelfuls of asphalt mixture around, apparently at random, and called it a day's work. They did even pretend to level it off, or to put it where it was needed.

Take the section of the street just the city side of the bridge on North

Main street. It's as perfect a "bump-the-bump" contrivance as ever was seen at any amusement resort. Only it isn't amusing—it is ruinous.

Talking of that North Main street bridge—why the bridge? There isn't another city in Southern California that would be found dead with that "bridge" inside its city limits.

Ever cross the Southern Pacific tracks going out North Main street? What did you think you struck—a ditch? No, that's just the Santa Ana way of "smoothing" over a railroad crossing.

How about the street railway crossings at—oh, say almost any crossing in the city? No need to single out any special crossing—each one is a little worse than the other. And they are all so bad that one hesitates to characterize them in cold type. There are limitations to what can be printed.

Just like North Main street, the Pacific Electric got an attack of conscience—has a corporation a conscience?—one day some time ago, and put a gang to work "smoothing" these crossings out—or some of them.

Perhaps the Pacific Electric doesn't know the system used by its repair gangs. The writer doesn't wish Mr. Pontius or Mr. Shoup anything worse than that they happen to drive their cars—we mean automobiles—over these crossings some dark night when they aren't looking for anything worse to happen to them than a wreck.

To climb off the Pacific Electric for awhile, ever cross the railroad tracks just below the sugar factory on the county highway leading to Newport Beach? Yes? Well, then, what's the use of commenting on it? The writer saw an automobilist—evidently a stranger in these parts—take that crossing at fifteen miles an hour one day last week. The car had to be brought back to a local machine shop for repairs.

We Santa Anans—we don't mind that crossing. We know it is there, and we shut off our power and brake down and throw out the clutch and hold our breath and we get over it with nothing worse than a bumping up. But it's kind of rough on the stranger within our gates.

I just heard, the other day, that the city had decided to eliminate—good word that—those dips in Fifth street paving. Some things listen so darned good one can't believe 'em until one sees 'em with his own eyes. I am not from Missouri, but I am perfectly willing to be shown. If those dips are cut out—say some time in the next seven years—so—I'll apologize to the whole board of City Trustees, the mayor, the city attorney, the traffic cops and the city marshal, for all these doubts.

Nice little stretch of road we have on Fifth street between Main and Ross. Ever ride over it? Paved street, too.

When I take a spin over that stretch, I always think of the only Biblical saw that has stuck with me for long at a time—"The way of the transgressor is hard." So, is it—on that street. There's a few more spots just like that. Most of them are on Fourth street—right in the business heart of the city. Santa Ana is so proud of them she leaves them right there for the world to see and marvel at. I know they are marvelous, for they make me marvel every time I ride over them—marvel that they can make automobiles that can stand the racket.

Down by the Southern Pacific, the Pacific Electric—I just can't lay off that Pacific Electric stuff—has a switch curve running into some lumber yard or something, where they store surplus cars when the jitneys get so lively they don't need them. That's another of the beauty spots of our paving system. Supposing—just supposing, of course—there was a fire down along that way and one of our 'steep-hundred-dollar fire auto trucks came hiking to that fire at top speed. Some chance for some village to get a nice second-hand auto fire truck cheap, eh?

Nothing like being philanthropic. Want to hear any more?

Well, down in front of the Allerton; down around the Orange County Garage Company's establishment; a block or two below the Allerton corner—and, say, every few rods from there to the railroad.

Then, a little jaunt out West Fourth street.

Then a "dip-the-dip" thriller out First street toward San Diego.

A spin out French street from Fourth, going north.

Oh, shocks, who ever? If any members of the city council—or the mayor—will go for a couple of hours' ride with me any old afternoon, I'll show 'em more bump-the-bumps than they believed existed in Southern California.

And I won't go off Santa Ana's magnificent paved streets once.

WILL C. ULLRICH.

HOT WEATHER PESTS

Ants One of the Most Aggravating Annoyances

Hot weather means different things to different people, but it always suggests one very disagreeable thing to the housewife—and that is ants.

Ants are small and unassuming but they are busy all the time, and have an unhappy faculty of intruding themselves where they are not desired.

What could be more annoying than to have a mess of ants over-running the food you are about to serve your family or guests?

Women everywhere will hail with delight, therefore, the announcement that a simple remedy has at last been devised that will rid them of this plague forever.

A baker in Los Angeles, after much experimenting, devised a paste which not only drives ants out of a house, but keeps them out thereafter.

So great a demand was immediately created that it was necessary to put up this remedy for general use under the name of Kellogg's Ant Paste—which can be obtained at all modern grocers or druggists. Try a package today and watch results.—Advertisement.

How Andrew Eiszele Made Money in Pahvant Valley

Started 2 1/2 yrs ago with but $2200 --
To-day he is worth $12,000.00 --

Western Securities Co.

711 Hollingsworth Bldg., Los Angeles, Calif.

Gentlemen:

I left the Riverside country in California to come to Pahvant Valley, where I have been farming 40 acres during the past three years. My land is all in alfalfa. I came here with a capital of $2200 and I value my place today, counting stock, improvements, etc., at $12,000. The reason I came to Pahvant Valley is because it required too much money to farm profitably in California. California is a good country if you have plenty of money to operate with, but in Pahvant Valley you can make good headway with small capital. I started out here with two hogs two and one-half years ago. I have sold $1975 worth of hogs since December 15, 1914, and I still have 150 head left, which will bring about $2000 in September. I want to say a good word about this climate. I lived one winter here in a tent and got along fine. I brought no overcoat with me and have never needed one. The water supply is perfect. My water cost has averaged me about 45 cents per acre each year. I believe this is a great sugar beet country. Alfalfa seed also pays well. It is also a good dairying country. However, I find hogs the quickest money maker, where a man raises all his own feed.

(Signed) ANDREW EISZELE.

State of Utah,
County of Millard—ss.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 6th day of July, 1915.

JEROME TRACY, Notary Public.

Pahvant Valley is on the main line of the Salt Lake Railroad in Southwestern Utah—under $1,000,000 irrigation system. Estimated annual cost of maintenance from 40 to 50 cents per acre $70 per acre for Land and Perpetual (gravity) Water Right. $25 An Acre Down. Balance in 10 Years.

Andrew Eiszele is a practical, far-sighted farmer who came to Pahvant Valley from Southern California because——he keenly realized the money-making opportunities—the bedrock price of land—the low cost of water—the deep, rich soil (richer than Imperial Valley)—the enormous crop yields year after year throughout the valley—the exceptional stock raising advantages—the high feeding value of Pahvant Valley alfalfa and grain—the opportunities in sugar beets, alfalfa seed, dairying, etc.—the health-giving climate—the pure, soft lithia drinking water—the high type of settlers—the prospect of increasing land values—the hearty co-operation of the powerful company back of the district with every earnest settler.

Why struggle with high water cost and low crop yields? Why not make money? If Andrew Eiszele and scores of other former Southern California farmers are doing it in Pahvant Valley—so can YOU! Go to the valley and talk to scores of contented farmers. Crops are now being harvested—yields that will astound you. Now is the time to go and be convinced. Our booklet containing sworn statements by Pahvant Valley farmers should be read by every California rancher. Send for it today. Special excursions at low homeseekers' rates from Los Angeles.

Doings In Social and Club Circles

AT THE SAN JOAQUIN

D. W. T. Club Delightfully Entertained By Mrs. Lou Morris

The ladies of the D. W. T. Club met Thursday, July 29, at the home of Mrs. Lou Morris, where a delightful afternoon was spent by all.

The ladies in the club were sorry to hear, at this meeting, that they were going to lose one of their favorite members, Mrs. Will Jeffries, who is going to move to San Fernando Valley to live. At the close of the afternoon delicious ice cream, chocolate and coconut cake and cookies were served by the hostess, assisted by her little niece, Luree Morris, from Santa Ana, and Mrs. Alice Walsh and daughter Vera. Those who were present to enjoy the afternoon were Mrs. J. D. Holford and daughter, Willa; Mrs. J. P. Callahan, Mrs. Jack King and daughter Bernice; Mrs. L. F. Flood and niece, Aileen Metz; Mrs. Andrew Cook and children, Leonard, Lewis and Margaret, and hostess, Alice and Ralph, all of the San Joaquin Ranch; Mrs. Mima Williams of Tustin and Mrs. John Morris and daughters, Lottie and Katherine, and granddaughter, Lura Morris; Mrs. Alice Walsh and daughter, Vera, all of Santa Ana.

The next meeting of the club will be held August 12 at the home of Mrs. Andrew Cook.

Pleasant and Profitable Evening

Rev. and Mrs. Bader of Atchison, Kansas, left this noon for San Francisco after a delightful visit with Dr. and Mrs. S. H. Gordon.

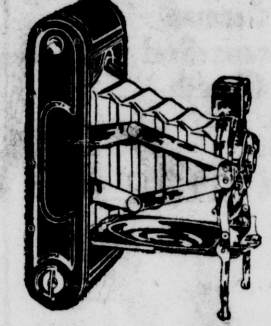

Rev. Bader is pastor of the First Christian church at Atchison, and knowing of his arrival at the Gordon home, the young men of the Japanese Mission came in a body to greet him last evening, their visit being a surprise to Dr. and Mrs. Gordon who greatly appreciated this compliment.

Rev. Fujita, the former pastor of the Japanese Mission came down from Los Angeles and the company was pleased to hear the interesting paper that he read before the congregation at board of directors, at the time of his ordination.

When this splendid paper had been heard and talks given by several members of the Japanese Mission, the attentive listeners felt that they had learned something very much "worth while" and Rev. Bader expressed his gratitude in being able to carry a new conception of the missionary spirit back to his people.

Light refreshments were enjoyed at the close of the informal evening.

SEA-SIDE LUNCHEON

Auction Bridge Devotees Are Delightfully Entertained By Mrs. Rutherford

Exquisitely beautiful in its appointments was the luncheon given yesterday by Mrs. H. T. Rutherford at her cottage by the sea, at East Newport.

A combination of blue tinted bachelorette and maiden hair ferns added floral charm to the cozy rooms, clusters of these lovely flowers and lacy fern centering each small table. Quaint blue and white china and blue and white linen doilies, in Japanese design, gave added attractiveness to the serving of the delicious six-course luncheon in which the prevailing color motif and suggestions of the seaside were observed.

The names of the guests were written in pretty sea shells, fruit cocktails were served in sail boats cleverly fashioned from fruit, while tiny ships bearing a cooling cargo of ice cream, were launched during the last course.

Auction bridge proved to be the interesting diversion of the afternoon. The star player, Mrs. Chas. Kelly, was rewarded with a half dozen beautiful hand-embroidered luncheon napkins, a lovely hand-painted vase going to Mrs. Parke Roper, while Mrs. W. E. Winslow was consoling with a pretty Japanese dish.

Among those motoring down to the beach to accept the delightful hospitality of Mrs. Rutherford were Mesdames L. A. Collier, Ben Turner, H. D. Connell, J. R. Porter, Fred Parsons, George Briggs, W. A. Huff, C. V. Davis, Harry Hansen, Speer, S. E. Babson, J. D. Thomas, Park Roper, M. A. Yarnell, W. E. Winslow, Will Spurgeon, Jr., Addie Collins, J. I. Clark, Chas. Kelly, J. P. Hatzfeld, John Tubbs, Henry Nau and E. B. Trago.

Jolly Class Picnic

The members of the Sunday school class of the First Presbyterian church, of which Benton Blee is teacher, boarded automobiles last evening and went to Balboa for a picnic and wieners. The machines took the merry crowd as far as they could and the rest of the way to the point was made on foot to a comfortable place, where a huge bonfire was made. The young folks gathered around it and enjoyed story telling, jokes and riddles, also recounting some exciting adventures. When a good bed of coals was obtained the young men roasted the wieners, which with other good things to eat, abundantly satisfied the appetites of the hungry company.

Those who enjoyed the jolly outing included Misses Florence Miller, Alpha Henry, Ethel Rodger, Vivian Talbert, Cecil Fross; Messrs. Donald Stevenson, Charles Herr, Tom Willets, Marvin Greathouse, Bill Hanley, James Livezey, and Palmer Lee; Mr. and Mrs. Benton Blee.

Honeymoon at San Diego

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gerken are spending their honeymoon at San Diego. Mrs. Gerken was formerly Mrs. Lizzie M. Doty, who has been engaged in the photography business here for many years.

Mr. Gerken is a well known business man of Orange and upon their return the happy couple will be at home to their many friends at 302 Baker street, where they will reside for a time.

Another Good Time

Members of the Country Club enjoyed another delightful card party at the club house last evening, the chosen five being progressive whist. At the close of the merry session at cards Mrs. W. A. Flood and Charles Kendal held high score. Mrs. Alice Harris and Dr. L. L. Whitson won second prizes, the consolation trophies going to Misses Stewart and Rosa Boyd.

A cooling collation refreshed the company before departing homeward.

PLEASANT SURPRISE

Members of Two-In-One Class Join In Happy Birthday Celebration

The "Two-In-One" Class of the First M. E. Church joined last evening in celebrating the birthday of a favorite member, Mrs. J. B. Head.

They met at the home of Mrs. C. A. Peters and went in a body to take possession of the Head home while Mr. Head, who had been taken into the secret, was treating his wife to a delightful drive.

When the couple returned and entered the darkened home, they were welcomed by a chorus of birthday greetings for the honoree and soon the company was merrily engaged in a series of games and entertaining stunts.

Mrs. Head was presented with a beautiful bouquet of pink roses and maiden hair ferns and during the evening delicious gelatin salad with whipped cream was served in canteloupe cups, the pink and green color scheme being further carried out in the refreshments.

Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Head, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Bowles, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Warner, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Coleman, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Coleman, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Young, Mr. and Mrs. George Cockings, Mrs. Earl Kerns, Mrs. C. A. Peters and Mrs. W. R. Howell.

Will Be Keenly Missed

The people on the San Joaquin Ranch are, one and all, sorry to learn that one of their most popular and well-known ranchers will soon be leaving them.

Will Jeffrey and his charming wife have recently purchased a ranch in the San Fernando Valley and expect to move there soon. Mr. Jeffrey, who has been ranching on the San Joaquin for several years, has also leased the big Patton ranch and expects to farm that too.

Surprise Celebration

A surprise birthday party was given last evening in honor of Miss Cora Fowler, the affair being held at her home, 119 French street.

Merry games and music swiftly beguiled the social hours which closed with serving of delicious refreshments.

Twenty-four young people joined in the jolly celebration.

SANTA ANA HIGH SCHOOL MANUAL WILL CUT OUT MOST EXES

Most of the School Districts Asking For Less Extra Money This Year

The Santa Ana high school special tax rate will probably be reduced thirty cents this year. The indications are that the elementary school rate and kindergarten special tax rate and kindergarten special tax rate will be the same as last year, thirty cents for the elementary and ten cents for the kindergarten.

Last year's special high school rate was $1. A new tax law has gone into effect that puts a general high school tax rate upon the entire county. County Superintendent of Schools Mitchell states that the general tax rate will be twenty cents on the $100 of assessed valuation. This change will be one factor in reducing the high school special rate.

County Superintendent Mitchell states that the general indication, taking all elementary school districts of the county this year, is to ask for less money to be raised by special tax this year than was raised last year.

Mitchell has sent notice to all districts that requests for special tax rates must be filed with him by August 10. Several of the districts have already made their wants known. Bay City is asking for $375, as against $700 last year; Cypress, $300 this year, $700 last; Fullerton elementary, $575 this, $820 last; Fullerton kindergarten, $550 this, $1500 last; Harper, $700 this and last; Katella, $200 this, $400 last; Ea Haba, with leveling of grounds to do, $2600 this, $910 last; Newport Beach, with bulkhead to build, $3500 this, $3000 last; Placentia, $4000 this, $6000 last; Randolph, $2700 this, $2550 last; Tustin, $5000 this, $6000 last; Yorba Linda, $625 this, $1400 last.

Mitchell has not yet taken up with the board of supervisors the matter of the general school rate for Orange county. Last year the rate was twenty-seven cents. Mitchell states that he does not see how the schools can get along on less money that the same rate would raise this year. The schools are growing.

'COT MEN JUSTIFIED TO HOLD FOR 7 CENTS SAYS DR. BERNEIKE

Following is Dr. J. G. Berneike's report on the dried apricot market: "Packers were freely offering 6 1/2 cents per pound yesterday for dried apricots and probably bought more or less. While we are fortunate this year in having a good quality of fruit there are some localities where the quality is inferior. Growers are certainly justified in looking for at least 7 cents per pound. It is only the grower who had a good crop who can pay expenses at a 7-cent price. The grower with a small crop falls to pay expenses with a 7-cent price but the future is too uncertain for him to hold out for a price that would really pay him. Growers in Berryessa, Santa Clara Valley, are holding for 8 cents a pound."

S. C. AUTO CLUB SAYS DIMMERS NOT NEEDED UNTIL JANUARY 1, '16

The following from today's Los Angeles Examiner will be of interest to local motorists: "Motorists who have been coerced into buying any and all headlight dimmers through hand-bills placed in the drivers' seats of automobiles parked at the curb were yesterday warned by officials of the Automobile Club of Southern California that the headlight-dimming law does not go into effect until December 31, instead of August 8 or 10, as announced in the circulars.

"A wholesale business has been carried on among motorists by salesmen who have scared automobile owners into buying the first sets of dimmers offered them, according to Secretary Mitchell of the Auto Club, instead of attempting to investigate the matter."

FEATURE STORY FOR THIS DAY BY UNITED PRESS

LONDON, July 17 (by mail).—The only way in which England can hope to conquer Germany is by conscription—"national service," as he calls it—says the Rt. Rev. Michael Furse, Bishop of Pretoria, in a letter written just after his return to London from a month's visit among the British troops in Northern France and Flanders.

He paints a gloomy picture of the present situation, due to the lamentable lack of munitions as well as men on the British front. But for the spirit of the individual soldier he has only words of praise. "I never doubted that the spirit of our troops," he says, "was as fine as I had been told it was; but I never realized what this meant until I had lived in it and with it. It is amazing, and all the more so when you realize that this spirit is there in spite of the fact that the men who show it feel in their bones that somehow the nation is not backing them as the nation could and should. The reason is not far to seek.

"After fighting desperately day and night for days and weeks, with frightful losses, the men who are left are dog tired and need a rest. When they are 'pulled out' to get this rest, and after three days are sent back into the firing line again, the only conclusion they can draw is that there are not enough troops available to take their places.

"When, night after night and day after day, the men in the trenches know that for every one hand grenade or rifle grenade or trench mortar bomb which they throw at the enemy they will get back in answer anything from five to ten, then the conclusion they draw is also obvious—namely, that the nation does not somehow realize the situation, or if it does, has not made it its business to supply what is necessary.

"Man for man they know that they have nothing to fear either from German infantry or cavalry; they have proved it again and again. But they know also that it is little short of murder for a nation to ask men, however full of the right spirit, to face an enemy amply equipped with big guns and the right kind of ammunition unless they are at least equipped with equally effective munitions of war.

"There can be only one impression left on the minds of men in such a case, and that is, that somehow or other the nation does not know the truth, does not understand, and is not backing them, for knowing the old country as they do, they have no doubt that if Germany can produce these things we can if we will. And yet, in spite of it all, they carry on, they keep cheerful, they do their best, they die gallantly.

"The fact is that as a nation we are just gambling on this spirit. We know it to be there; we recognize it as the finest thing in the world; we believe it is unconquerable, whatever happens.

"So it is; but it will not win the war alone. It is this spirit, backed by guns and high explosives—legitimate munitions of war—which is going to smash this enemy of ours, and nothing else. Let no one think that we are going to do it by descending to the level of the German Imperial Staff and using any sort of gas. This talk of reprisals by gas (perhaps next we shall hear of reprisals by poisoning water supplies!) is simply another method of chloroforming the nation and blinding its eyes to the real issue.

"The British soldier might well ask: 'Why should I be punished for refusing to go into the trenches because my pay is not raised a penny an hour, and the other fellow be allowed to strike and then be cajoled into going back to work by the special visit of a cabinet minister and the promise of extra pay? Why should I have to stick it out, night after night and day after day, in water and mud up to my knees, when the other fellow (who is only doing another part of the same job) can make his own conditions as to hours of work?'

"But the men at the front are cheery because their consciences are at rest. They know they have done and are doing the right thing. When the whole nation knows itself to be under orders, and knows that it is doing the right thing, we shall see the same spirit of gay surrender at home.

"National Service will be welcomed once the nation learns the truth that thousands of the finest and most gallant lives that the empire has ever produced are being thrown away because the nation has not yet realized that it is at war.

"There is only one way to make the nation realize this fact, and that is by bringing every member of it under the

IN THE JUSTICE COURT WIFE DECLARES THERE IS AN AFFINITY

Frederick Waller Intensely Indignant Because His Wife Is "So Unreasonable"

A family spat, a tiff or a row or something of that sort was staged in Justice Cox's court room this morning. The wife came off victor, for her husband went to jail, awaiting $1000 bond.

"You are unreasonable," declared Waller as he pounded the table with his fist. "What's the use of sending me to jail. You know I have got only $9, and can't get any more. You won't be helped a bit by putting me in jail."

Waller, a waiter, was arrested on complaint of Mrs. Ida Waller of Anaheim, charging him with non-support. When Waller was before Justice Cox yesterday he declared that it must be a mistake. Why, he had been giving money to his wife whenever he could get it. Justice Cox was sufficiently surprised. He let Waller go without bail.

This morning a different kind of a tale was told by Mrs. Waller. She said that Waller had an affinity, and at a good deal of his money was not spent on Mrs. Waller. Mrs. Waller produced a letter, which she read to Justice Cox. It was a letter never intended to meet the eyes of Mrs. Waller. Mrs. Waller said that the letter was from the mother of the alleged affinity, and it suggested that something ought to be done to get "Ida" cut loose from Waller.

After hearing Mrs. Waller's side of the case, Justice Cox decided that he would demand $1000 bond of Waller for his appearance for preliminary examination next Tuesday at 2 p. m. When this was made known, then it was that Waller demanded of his wife that she be reasonable.

No Lights on Bikes Wayne Adams, James Guers and Irving Givens paid fines of $1 each after pleading guilty to riding bicycles on a county road at night without having proper lights on their vehicles.

FEWER BUNNIES BY SEVERAL BUSHELS

Still the Hunters Did Not Find Hunting Such An Awful Bonanza

There are a good many less rabbits in the cactus tonight than there were at 4:32 o'clock this morning when the rabbit season opened. Even at that, however, the bunnies did not fare as badly as it was believed they would fare today. The rabbits are unquestionably plentiful, but nevertheless they are hard to get. The reason for that is that the grass is unusually long. Hunters get a glimpse of Brer Rabbit, and that is about all. At least, that is the rule rather than the exception.

Most of the hunting parties that went out returned with averages of from three to six apiece. George Benedict, courthouse custodian, went forth on his bike and returned with six. Rev. Paul E. Wright, Judge Z. B. West, L. W. Slaback, James Slaback and Deputy County Clerk J. M. Backs ventured into the wilds around the County Park and returned with twenty-seven rabbits.

Claire Johnson, "Doc" Gearhart, W. W. Halesworth, Ray Chandler and J. G. Limbird made a quick trip into the nearby hills and got sixteen. Street Superintendent James O'Brien brought home five.

TALKS TO FARMERS. NO. 2

Are you thoroughly satisfied with your present location? Are you thoroughly satisfied from a stand-point of first profit, second happiness, and third health? If you are, you are ideally situated, if you are not satisfied from all of these three standpoints then you must be more or less discontented, and if I can show you where you can embrace all three of these fundamentals and at a cost of perhaps 25 per cent of the value of your present holdings, you would desire to investigate further, would you not?

The owners of this land have such confidence in the ability of the soil to pay for the land itself and provide a living for the worker while doing so, that they have located on the land twelve German families whose total cash capitalization each was from $150 to $1100, which was the highest amount anyone of them possessed and they are making good.

In further confidence of the success of this land the owners have spent over $450,000.00 in improving and leveling it, and in building a street car entirely through the property.

If the above German settlers without any capital can make good you can see the possibilities for the man with from $1000 to $10,000 to invest. This land will net conservatively from $50.00 to $200.00 per acre per year and a crop failure is unknown. It has an unlimited water supply at a cost of one dollar per acre per year. It is located within five miles of the most rapidly growing city of 50,000 people in the state of California, and can be bought today for $200.00 per acre on your own terms, and I can logically show you that the same land should increase in value that it will be worth $500 to $1000 per acre within five years, where you can have profit, happiness and health which mean satisfaction and contentment. If you are in the market for land I will be glad to give you further details by writing or calling for my little booklet "FUNDAMENTAL FARMING FACTS" which will show you the best land investment offered in the state of California.

NOTED LANDMARK OF TUSTIN GOES TO MAKE ROOM FOR SCHOOL

The two-story frame school-house is being torn down this week on the grounds now occupied by the beautiful new $40,000 school house.

In this old Tustin landmark all the children that have lived in Tustin since about 1880 have gone to school.

Each board and shingle in its make-up has served a high and useful purpose in helping to afford a starting place for the best things in so many lives at the beginning of the journey of life.

In the early seventies the lot was given by Mr. Tustin and a one-room schoolhouse with a porch and belfry was built, Miss Jane Tustin being one of the first teachers.

About the year 1880 this building was moved off to Grand avenue and Depot street in Santa Ana and fixed up as a residence and the south wing of the two-story building was built. About twenty years ago the north wing was added, the fire escape and other improvements being added later. With the building of the handsome new schoolhouse, its usefulness ceased and the place shall know it no more, as the wrecking is about completed and the materials are being taken away.

EASTERN FRIENDS ARE HONORED AT TUSTIN

On last Friday night a number of friends of Mrs. Charles Willard and Mrs. E. H. Hess were entertained in honor of their guests, Elzer Jackson and daughter, Miss Valle Jackson, of Pulaski, Tenn.

Mr. Jackson is an old-time eastern friend of Mr. Willard, Pulaski being the native place of each.

Those who spent the pleasant evening together besides the above mentioned were Miss Myrtice Harwell, Mr. and Mrs. Mont. Jackson and daughter, Miss Etta Marie, Calvia Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Rees Webster and daughters of Santa Ana, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Utt, Misses Gertrude and Dorothy Utt, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Ebel, Mrs. C. A. Nordstrom, Mrs. F. T. Preble, Misses Clara Williams, Lois Morgan, Thelma Nordstrom, Anita Preble and Valeria Willard.

A number of beautiful musical numbers were played by the young ladies of the party and later in the evening delicious orange ice and cake were served.

ENTERTAIN EASTERN FRIENDS
Misses Ruth and Grace Hammond of Haverhill, Mass., were guests of Mrs. J. O. Preble on Monday. The young ladies are daughters of Mrs. Preble's schoolmates in Massachusetts, and she met them the week before at the San Diego exposition.

They told her they had never pulled an orange from the tree and they very much enjoyed doing so on Monday as well as seeing the tangerine tree, loquats and other California fruits on Mrs. Preble's five-acre place.

ORANGE CUSTARD

A Tasty Dessert Peculiarly Appropriate to California

In California, the great orange state of the country, every housekeeper should be familiar with many recipes utilizing the delicious golden fruit in various forms. One of the most tasty dishes of this character is orange custard—a simple recipe for which is as follows:

1 pint milk scalded; yolk of 2 eggs; 1 tablespoon cornstarch; sugar to taste. Mix eggs, sugar and cornstarch and pour the hot milk on slowly. Cook over water, stirring constantly till it thickens. Cool. Slice 4 oranges and arrange in a serving dish with layers of sugar. Pour the custard over the whole.

Try this recipe once and you will always preserve it for future reference.

In all recipes involving the use of cornstarch, it is important that a good quality be used in order to obtain satisfactory results. Housekeepers in all parts of the country who have the best success with cornstarch recipes invariably depend upon the famous Kingsford's brand.

Kingsford's cornstarch can be obtained at all modern grocers and costs no more than ordinary kinds. Insist upon Kingsford's and ask your grocer for the little Corn Products Cook Book which contains the above and hundreds of other delicious cornstarch recipes.—Advertisement.

MERRY PARTY IN OUTING HIKE TO CAMP BALDY TWO DAYS

Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Leck, Miss Zena Leck, Ira Leck and Arley Leck composed a family party enjoying a two-days' stay at Camp Baldy last Saturday and Sunday. They had a good many enjoyable adventures. One of the exciting incidents of their trip was a crack shot by Jasper Leck when he killed, first shot, a coyote at a distance of 300 yards with his .38-caliber Colts revolver in tree canyon.

FACTS ABOUT WALNUTS

The greatest walnut section of America from which practically all commercial nuts of home production go, is the coast section of Southern California with uniform, moderate climate. Walnuts are grown here near sea level. On the other hand, the walnut in its original home is a mountain tree and is grown in the Sierra foothills at an elevation of 2000 feet.

As frost is one of the chief factors in walnut culture, it can be said, as to elevation, keep where the frost will not settle and do not climb so high on the mountains that it gets too cold and you can grow walnuts, provided other conditions are satisfactory.

People until recently have been convinced that only near the Coast, California coast would walnuts be commercially profitable. Now walnut orchards are going in here and there nearly all over the Central California valley. It not only thrives in the Sierra foothills, but in Siskiyou and Humboldt counties, up in Oregon and even back east. It even thrives in cold Manchuria. Selection of varieties for location is a big feature.

Although walnut trees will produce nuts earlier than the seventh year, the seventh year on an average is early enough to expect much of a yield, and that only a fraction of what a full-bearing tree will give.

If there is plenty of water for irrigation, the soil rich or fertilization kept up, alfalfa is an excellent thing to grow between trees. The deciding factor is whether or not there is water enough for both trees and inter-crops. Many walnuts are grown without irrigation. However, the walnut is a liberal consumer of moisture and irrigation in all but rare cases would be profitable. The amount of irrigation needed varies with conditions.

High summer heat is one of the biggest foes of the walnut. Sunburn in nearly all cases is due directly to the lack of sufficient moisture. If you irrigate well you can be pretty sure that sunburn will cut very little figure. In hot locations it is easier to dodge the two severe foes of the walnut in Southern California—blight and frost.

RETURNED FROM EXPOSITION
Mr. and Mrs. Albert Fuller and three children, Mrs. C. A. Poole and daughter Hazel have just returned from an automobile trip to the San Francisco exposition. They went by way of the Maricopa big trees and returned by the coast route.

TO CATALINA AND LONG BEACH
Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sauters with Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Wolpert of Santa Ana have returned from a week's vacation at Catalina and Long Beach. One of the sights at Catalina was One of the sights at Catalina was

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET

Prices of staples did not vary at the session of the produce exchange yesterday and eggs were if anything a trifle stronger. San Francisco quotations were the same as the day previous. Egg receipts were light, only 181 cases coming into the city while butter arrivals were 47,100 pounds. Cheese receipts of 19,920 were reported but there was no activity in the commodity on the exchange. A call for potatoes was lacking and receipts consisted of 174 sacks. Fruit receipts picked up considerably as compared with 257 boxes of apples, 710 lbs of nectarines, 12½ lugs of pears, 1020 boxes of peaches and 7 cars of watermelons. Onions and sweet potatoes to the extent of 310 and 41 sacks respectively came into the city. Los Angeles received cheese from Oregon yesterday aggregating 16,100 pounds and more shipments are reported on the way.

CURRENT PRICES
[The following market prices on poultry and eggs, fruits and vegetables are compiled daily for the Register, based on the quotations prevailing on the Los Angeles produce exchange for the bulk of the preceding. Every effort is made to keep these quotations accurate and down to the latest possible available figures.]

TWELVE MILLION FEET GAS WILL BE SUPPLIED

Fullerton Fields to Carry a Large Volume to Los Angeles

Twelve million cubic feet of natural gas will be carried daily, beginning within the next three months, from the Standard Oil Company's fields, near Fullerton, to Los Angeles.

In all 40,000,000 cubic feet will be carried to Los Angeles, beginning within the next three months. The Midway Gas Company will supply 18,000,000 cubic feet and the Economic Gas Company 10,000,000 cubic feet.

The contract for the pipe line tapping the Fullerton fields provides that it must be finished by September 11, and work on this line now is well under way. This line is fifteen miles long, the Economic Gas Company's line about ten miles long and the Midway line more than 100 miles long.

Los Angeles, even in the winter, uses only about 28,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily, but the score or more of beach and inland cities, within a radius of thirty miles of Los Angeles, use almost as much more, and there still will be a shortage even after the Fullerton line is finished.

There are a large number of small oil fields in Southern California which are capable of furnishing a large amount of natural gas, and it is predicted that within a comparatively short time steps will be taken to conserve it all and deliver it to this city. At Chatsworth, in the San Fernando Valley, as an example, it is reported 4,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily is going to waste.

Experts declare that the Rancho la Brea and Fullerton fields, with further development, will be capable of furnishing considerably more than the present output. None of this gas contains less than 930 heat units, and some of it goes well over 1100, according to tests recently made.

Cannot Cut Price

The first decision under the new Clayton law on the right of manufacturers of standard-price articles to persons who resell them at less than the standard price was handed down in the United States District Court in New York this week. Judge Hough against the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company, which asked for an injunction forcing the Cream of Wheat Company to sell to them. The tea company had been selling cream of wheat at the standard price of which is 14 cents a package, at 12 cents in many of its "economy stores" throughout the country. The Cream of Wheat Company thereupon refused to sell to the tea company and the tea company brought suit. Judge Hough held not only that to refuse to deal with a man who is avowedly using his dealings to injure the vendor was not substantial and unreasonable restraint of trade, but indicated that if Congress had intended by the Clayton law to force any one to part with his property against his wish the law was invalid.

Cost of Federal Reserve Banks
The Federal Reserve Board in its July bulletin furnishes some interesting details in regard to its current expenses and estimated outlays for the year in connection with the administration of the reserve system. It is estimated by the board that its general expenses for the six months from July 1 to December 31, 1915, will be $110,897. This is based upon probable monthly requirements of $18,482. Approximately $22,500 for contingencies is provided by an estimated unexpended balance of about $25,000 from the first assessment. This, added to the amount of the second assessment, $108,447, will give the board $133,447 to meet its obligations during the next six months. An assessment of one-tenth of 1 per cent to cover the $108,447 deemed necessary was therefore voted by the board.

In the Mining World

From the Los Angeles Financial News.

Speaking of mining, the industry in general, the district about Kennett in particular, the Redding Courier says: "The City of Kennett is one of the important centers of population in Shasta county—a community that has grown from a hamlet with a score of people, to a city of 2500 population in half a decade. Kennett is an industrial center. A pay-roll of $90,000 per month means prosperity widely diffused, not alone for the well-paid worker in smelter and mine, but also for the local business community which partakes of its benefits through the creation of a local market for the products of the range, the orchard, the garden and the farm. A visit to the smelter plant at Kennett—the largest and most modern now operating on the Pacific coast—impresses one with the permanency of its construction. Structural steel and concrete and cement prove that the work is for the future as well as for the present. Smelting operations began in October, 1905. Since then the mines within a radius of eight miles from Kennett have produced over $40,000,000. Ten years ago the freight in and out of Kennett was confined to unimportant shipments of lime and limestone. At the present time the value of freight in and out leads every station between Sacramento and Portland, Oregon. The freight originating and terminating at Kennett reaches a total value of $20,000 a day, or approximately seven and one-half millions per year."

Arizona State Tax Commission has announced the assessed valuation of the producing mines in the state at $121,225,919.74, an increase of $11,000,000, or ten per cent over the 1914 assessment. Improvements and mining machinery are valued at almost $34,000,000, or an increase of approximately $3,500,000 over last year. The figures by counties follow:

County Valuation

Cochise $7,239.39

Gila 18,594,210.41

Greenlee 13,177,718.98

Maricopa 338,490.50

Mohave 3,557,368.93

Pinal 12,962,465.49

Santa Cruz 725,922.10

Yavapai 15,430,919.12

Total for state $121,225,919.74

The total valuation of mines, improvements and machinery amounts to $155,131,856.49. Included in this amount, however, is more than three millions of productive mining property which was assessed as non-productive last year. Among the more important increases in valuation over last year's assessment is that of the Superior and Pittsburg Copper Company, which was raised from $14,951,795 to $20,551,670, and of the Copper Queen Consolidated, which was increased $3,600,000 over the 1914 assessment. Another feature of the valuation this year is the transfer of the Inspiration Consolidated from the non-producing class to that of a producing property.

In the Randsburg district a cleanup made last week from the Sunshine $3000 being the result. Fifteen tons of ore from the Minnehaha milled at the Red dog mill plated $21 per ton. At the same mill a twenty-ton milling is being made from ore from the Paymaster. The cleanup at the Consolidated last week amounted to $2600. From the Black Hawk seven and one-half tons of ore returned the owner a $2273 brick. A new mill is rapidly being built which will enable the Atolia company to double their output and incidentally make them the world's largest producers of tungsten. This company has always held the distinction of being the largest producer of scheelite.

D. J. A. Holmes, late director of the Bureau of Mines, was buried in Washington Saturday, 17th inst. All over the country the mining industry, by suspending operations, joined in a final tribute to the man who was the mine safety movement. Secretaries Lane, Daniels and Wilson, Surgeon-General William C. Gorgas of the army, R. S. Woodward, president of the Carnegie Institute, Samuel L. Rogers, director of the census, Charles M. Coffey, Civil Service Commissioner, and Peter M. Wilson, chief clerk of the senate, acted as honorary pallbearers. The chiefs of the divisions of the Bureau of Mines, who worked under Dr. Holmes, were the active pallbearers.

London and California financiers, it is said in a San Francisco dispatch, have perfected plans for the incorporation of a company with a capital of $15,000,000 for the purpose of controlling by purchase and option California mining properties aggregating $100,000,000. It is also said that the incorporation papers will be filed within a few days.

The You Bet Company of Nevada county is to submit the actual working of the claims to Chinese, presumably to the Six Companies of San Francisco, and already nearly 100 Chinese miners are at work. This contract is said to involve thousands of dollars monthly.

The famous Silver Bar mine and other properties of the Mogollon Gold and Copper Company are to be sold on Monday, July 26, at Socorro, New Mexico, by Special Master Milton J. Heinick to satisfy a judgment for $116,626.19 given to the Equitable Trust Company of New York.

D. F. Sullivan, John Woodside and Mottini brothers are engaged in running a tunnel into the old fault zone channel, near Downville. They report having obtained some very rich prospects in the gravel and expect to be able to open up a good property.

Monarch Consolidated Copper Company, with a capital of $1,000,000, with places of business in Phoenix and Miami, Arizona, has been incorporated by E. A. Seeley and J. H. Williams of Miami.

To develop mineral claims in the vicinity of Hachita, New Mexico, the Southwestern New Mexico Mining Company has been granted a charter. Its capital is $150,000, fully subscribed.

Crescent Consolidated Copper Company of Globe, Arizona, has been incorporated with a capital of $1,000,000. The company is managed by E. E. Wright, R. L. Lapington.

Diluvio Gold and Copper Mining Company holds its annual meeting in room 820-828, Merchants' National Bank building, Los Angeles, Monday, July 26, at 2 p. m.

Sebastopol Mining and Development Company has been incorporated in San Francisco with a capital of $3,000,000.

Facts About California

(From L. A. Financial News.)

In Irrigation Districts
The GooseLake Valley Irrigation project by which 50,000 acres of choice land in Modoc county, Cal., and Lake county, Ore., are to be irrigated, has just been completed. Construction work on this project has been under way for the past year. It is the second unit of a main project completed one year ago and supplies water for some 70,000 acres of land. The project is one of the largest ever undertaken by private enterprise in this section of the west.

Directors of the Turlock Irrigation district have accepted the offer of J. T. Denton to lease all the lands around the Davis reservoir not already under lease at an annual cash rental of $2500, and the lease has been ordered executed. The total acreage of tillable reservoir lands amounts to 2075 acres, of which Denton gets 294 acres.

President J. B. Case of the International Irrigation Congress is authority for the statement that Governor Johnson has promised to issue a proclamation designating the week of September 13-20 as "International Irrigation Congress Week."

The congress will be held in Stockton, September 13-14; Fresno, 15-16; Sacramento, 17-18, and San Francisco, 20.

Bids from thirteen contracting firms were opened by the Okaloosa irrigation district for the work of extending the system. Shaw & Batcher of Sacramento received the bulk of the contracts.

In the district of which Paradise is the center, in Butte county, an irrigation district is planned.

General Information
Figures compiled by the collector of the port at Eureka show a decrease in foreign shipments of lumber from Humboldt bay during the fiscal year ended June 30th, to the value of $680,000. This is partly offset by increased shipments to the Hawaiian Islands.

The total assessed valuation of the City of Hemet is $19,375, according to the report of the County Assessor. Valuations of the Riverside county cities are: San Jacinto, $27,750; Elmore, $24,830; Perris, $120,825; Banning, $530,750; Beaumont, $288,670.

Ten thousand acres of land in Yuba county are devoted to nurseries; 1,000,000 young trees will be in the ground within the next sixty days. In one nursery 500,000 trees are already set out. Tree planting machines are used.

The assessment rolls of Nevada county, just completed for the year 1915, show an increase of taxable property to the amount of $177,315 over 1914. The total taxable property for the county is placed at $6,633,255.

Not a single petition was received by the Board of Equalization in Butte county for a reduction in assessment.

The government work on the south jetty at the entrance to Humboldt bay was completed last Saturday night. It has taken over three years to do the work at a cost of over $1,200,000.

The Eureka land office had a busy month for June, twenty-eight homestead applications being filed and six proofs made. There are now pending 577 applications in that office.

Hunters are finding deer very plentiful this season in Monterey county, many bucks being brought down. In the first three days of the season fifty bucks were killed by Salinas residents.

Thousands of acres of grazing land were burned over by forest fires which raged in a part of Yuba county the past week. Much valuable timber was also destroyed.

The planting of sixty acres of the best land in the section about Redley to the date palm is one of the latest additions to the diversified industries of that part of the state.

Trinity county's assessed value this year is $3,150,000, or a gain of only $65,000 over last year. The increase is due to the valuation added to live stock.

Assessment rolls of El Dorado county show a valuation of all property in the county at $6,079,005, an increase of $15,000 over last year.

According to the report of the County Assessor, the assessment of Kings county grew $1,500,000 during the last twelve months.

Shasta county's assessment totals $12,552, a gain of $176,000 over last year.

to its readers, who will ever be grateful for the opportunity offered by this grand educational distribution.

In addition to the 600 beautiful text illustrations are full page plates of the famous Tissot pictures in handsome colors. As Edward K. Bok, editor of the Ladies' Home Journal, says: "This Bible is not a meaningless picture book. The illustrations serve a distinct purpose. They enrich the text, but they do more—they intelligently EXPLAIN it, so that many a hitherto obscure passage assumes to thousands a new meaning through these eye-teaching pictures."

You will enjoy this Bible, whether you belong to the church or not, for its "eye-teaching" pictures make it of rare educational value to all.

Today's Bible Certificate will be found on another page.

This is what Abraham Lincoln said: "No library is complete without two certain books—the Bible and Shakespeare; hardly a quotation is used in literature that is not taken from one of these books."

McAdoo May Retire

Washington specials say that Secretary McAdoo has expressed his intention of leaving the cabinet. Many large business offers have been made Mr. McAdoo, among which is the presidency of one of the largest banking institutions of New York. His predecessors, Secretary Shaw and Secretary Gage, took advantage of such opportunities and have become independently rich.

"It has long been known," says the dispatch, "that Secretary McAdoo could be made the governor-general of the Federal Reserve Board if he will accept it."

Los Angeles Public Schools

To care for the public schools of Los Angeles in the year 1914-15 the sum of $4,602,457 was expended for the 92,572 pupils enrolled, of which 20,522 were in the High Schools; 2131 teachers were employed. The cost per pupil for the year, based on the total current expenses (all outlays except for sites, buildings, furniture and equipment) and estimated on the city enrollment, was $24.25 in the kindergarten and $45.33 in the grades.
